Bonitasoft

The open source BPM-based application platform

Empower developers to build applications that delight business

Model & execute powerful processes

Design your business processes graphically with Business Process Model and Notation (BPMN 2.0), enabling business and technical stakeholders to communicate in a common language.

Connect the processes to external systems, add business data, design the user interface and Bonita BPM generates the application for you in a snap!

Connect and customize freely

Bonita BPM includes a comprehensive set of ready-to-use connectors to connect easily to nearly any enterprise system - CRM, ECM, ERPs, databases, social platforms, web services, and more. Need a new one? Find it in our open source community, or easily create your own!

“We found it possible to integrate the Bonita BPM Engine with our third party systems, which brought significant added value. This aspect was more difficult with other, less easily customized solutions.”

– Roger-Pierre Gallard, AREVA ISD

Bonita BPM Studio for drag&drop modeling

“The beauty of Bonita BPM is, I can push a button and it generates code that actually runs.”

–Per Gyllstrom, EnerNOC

Bonita BPM connects with everything

Build engaging applications

Build highly engaging end-user interfaces that are natively responsive and work on any mobile device, using state-of-the-art graphical design tools.

Use the Bonita BPM web and mobile based portal to perform your tasks and administer the processes but if that doesn't meet your business needs, you can create your own personalized end-user application.

Go beyond generic portals and build what your business truly wants!

Monitor everything, end-to-end

Ensure your business is running smoothly with maximum uptime and minimal disruption with the in-built process monitoring dashboards and graphical case visualization. You can also install your own business reports to monitor business KPIs.

Update applications easily

Bonita BPM is architected to have a clear separation between processes, business logic and user interface so you can update your applications easily in real-time without the need to interrupt service or deploy another version of the process application.

Now you can keep up with business changes!

“Bonita BPM enables completely paperless processes with real-time monitoring by all stakeholders of any changes.”

—Roger-Pierre Gallard, AREVA ISD
